Local, State, US
Offices Also
To Close

MARKETS TO STAY OPEN TONIGHT AND TOMORROW

Schedules of Pottstown stores, offices and plants assured the borough yesterday of one of its quietest Fourth of July.

Virtually all stores will be closed, as well as, borough, State and Federal offices. Most mid-borough restaurants also will close.

The Pottstown postoffice will have no deliveries or window service, but the lobby will be open from 6 a. m. to 6 p. m. Saturday for the convenience of box-holders and those wishing to mail letters.

A skeleton postal force will keep the mail flowing through the office.

SUPERMARKETS which are among the stores that will close Saturday were open yesterday afternoon and will be open both tonight and tomorrow night till 9 o'clock.

With one reported exception other stores normally closed for a summertime Wednesday half holiday were closed yesterday afternoon.

The Pennsylvania State Employment service office, which gets Monday off when a major holiday falls on Sunday, will get no days off this week, since the office is not open Saturday, anyway.

With the stores closed, parking meters also will not be in operation.

In contrast to the past Fourth, when Pottstown's volunteer firemen staged a mammoth bi-centennial firemen's parade, there are no major civic activities planned.

POTTSTOWNIANS who were thinking of making picnic reservations for Saturday at Montgomery County park near Green Lane might as well forget about it.

Otto Quinque, park superintendent, said that all 575 picnic tables, already have been reserved for the Fourth. He added that there still are reservations available for Sunday.

At least 15,000 people are expected at the park, he reported.

Violation Underlines Need for Changes in Town's Zoning Code

The building violation of a Walnut street property owner provides one more reason why the borough zoning code should be changed.

Arthur J. Otis constructed a two-story, concrete-block addition to his 757 Walnut street home, three feet beyond the limits allowed by the zoning code.

One of two penalties can be assessed at Otis. He can be fined $50 or he can be compelled to tear down the portion of new construction in violation of the zoning code.

Since his neighbors are inclined to be lenient over the violation, it is believed council's building committee probably will levy the $50 penalty.

THE COMMITTEE tentatively has scheduled a meeting one-half hour prior to the July 13 council session, at 7 p. m., to act on the violation.

Since Otis' violation has raised no objection in the neighborhood and since he claimed he was away when the violation took place, the committee is expected to be lenient.

But it has been pointed out by a number of borough officials the zoning code needs changes on its penalty clauses and a number of other provisions.

Otis explained the violation to the building committee. He said the contractor misunderstood the (Continued on Page Eleven)

HEAT WAVE IN THIRD DAY

Town Wilts, More Due

By NORMAN REED
(Mercury Staff Writer)

There weren't any real clouds in the local skies yesterday — what passed for clouds was the steam rising from Pottstown's fevered foreheads.

Or maybe the heat waves rising from lava-hot concrete along High street just made it seem that way.

With the mercury relentlessly above the 90 mark for the third straight day, even the most cool-headed might have been forgiven for such fancies.

Yesterday was the worst of the three, for the temperature stayed stubbornly above 90 for five solid hours—from 2:30 until 7:30 p. m.

On the two previous days it was just as unreasonable, but it only touched the upper reaches of human endurance for an hour or two.

A mass of hot and humid air that boiled up from the Gulf of Mexico about six days ago is the villain of this story, for since it drenched the area with its scalding discomfort, no one has been able to concentrate on anything much but his own misery.

One local resident, reasoning that everything in this world is relative, took his steam bath as usual yesterday.

This philosopher of the weather

Charles S. Nagle, Wilson road and he didn't care to measure the Burdian drive, maintained that if number of degrees you have to put up with unreasonable heat you might as well get as much as possible all at once.

It may be that after the pores in the skin give off several gallons of perspiration, they feel they've done enough work for one day and stop pouring it out, in which case you wouldn't have to go around the rest of the day with a wet shirt on your back.

Well, it was worth a try, and the steam cabinet is a well-known machine for keeping the man in form intact too as any business man knows.

AND IF you're going to perspire, there's no safer place to do it than in one of these square-pressure cookers.

You're not running your white shirt by sweating the dye from your tie on it, or running a neatly pressed linen suit by drenching it with the ooze from your tired pores when you're sweating it out in the hot box.

There's another plus value on this type of heat treatment. When you've had enough of it you know that the next place you go is bound to be cooler.

It couldn't be any hotter.

Nagle didn't say how hot it actually was in the box. Maybe

...Cool for Them

When it's as hot outside as it was yesterday, a few more degrees can't make much difference. So reasons Charles S. Nagle, Wilson road and Burdian drive, who took his regular steam bath as usual. Besides keeping the figure in trim, the steam cabinet gets rid of lots of perspiration in a short time, so that you don't have the discomfort of shedding it on your necktie all day long. Then too, when you step out of this hot box you know that the next place you go is bound to be cooler, even if you go right out on High street. While Nagle was cooking himself in his square

June High Month for Allied Troops; 36,000 Reds Are Killed or Wounded

SEOUL Thursday, July 2 (AP)—Allied troops killed and wounded more than 36,000 Reds in June, the Eighth army reported today, the equivalent of about three Communist divisions.

But during the same time, Allied lines withstood the heaviest shelling of the three-year war. Almost 1,500,000 rounds of artillery and mortar fire from Red guns, more than double the previous record of October, were poured on United Nations troops, the Army said. UN losses for the period were not disclosed.

Fighting fell off early this morning all across the line, a spokesman reported.

Yesterday a South Korean drive on the East-Central front was jarred into reverse when up to 3000 Chinese Reds counterattacked and hurled the ROK troops off two key heights.

Up to 2000 Chinese drove the South Koreans from 1600 foot Lookout mountain which commands the network of roads in the Kum-ong river valley that feeds supplies to that sector.

ABOUT 20 MILES or so to the east across the Puchan River valley, another 1000 Chinese pushed South Koreans from Virginia hill just as the Koreans were consolidating new positions there.

Lookout stands on the west flank of the six-mile deep bulge which the Reds hammered into the Puk-Eighth Army.

Only west of Lookout mountain on the Sniper ridge sector of the Central front could the South Koreans mark up any success after 24 hours of slashing, close quarter fighting. The South Koreans reported they won a knob on Finger ridge, which is part of Sniper ridge near Kumbya. They also beat back a 200-man Chinese Red assault on outpost Victor, near Sniper ridge.

THE AIR WAR which blazed so high on the last day of June turned cool Wednesday.

Sanatoga Father Told Benjamin Sell Died in Korea

Wayne Sell, Township Line road Sanatoga, learned yesterday that his 36-year-old son, Army Sgt. Benjamin Sell, was killed in action in Korea the past June 16.

The news was received in a telegram from Elizabeth, Ky., where Sgt. Sell's wife lives. The telegram quoted a brief telegram from the Secretary of the Army's office. There was no indication how or exactly where in Korea the sergeant was killed.

Sergeant Sell had been in the Army for nearly 12 years. During World War II, he served in Germany. For the past year he had been in Korea.

Born in Chester, Delaware county, he attended school there before coming to Pottstown with his family nearly 20 years ago. Surviving are his father, two brothers, John D. and Harvey at home, and four sisters, Gerlene at home, Dorothy, wife of Clarence Schaeffer, Schwenksville; Margaret, wife of Henry Rhoads, Sanatoga, and Alice, wife of Paul Stong Sanatoga.

Police Chief James I. Condie warned, "There is definitely something fishy going on here." On the theory college men may have swallowed the defenseless fish, a search was made of the short fronts of local youths to find possible goldfish scales. No luck.

Goldfish Stolen, Something's Fishy
ALHAMBRA, Calif., July 1 (AP)—Someone's out to get the goldfish here. For the second time in a week, fishermen have struck this community the latest plunder netting 20 four-inch fantail goldfish from the pond of Ann J. Ungelmsch.

Earlier in the week, a $295 goldfish theft was reported by Jeanette Peterson.

Police Chief James I. Condie warned, "There is definitely something fishy going on here." On the theory college men may have swallowed the defenseless fish, a search was made of the short fronts of local youths to find possible goldfish scales. No luck.

Hot for Him...

Fireworks Expected to Be Few and Very Far Between

NO APPLICATIONS MADE FOR DISPLAY PERMITS

Fireworks—both legal and illegal—are expected to be conspicuous by their absence in Pottstown on Fourth of July.

This was indicated yesterday by Borough Fire Marshal George Herbst, at whose office application must be made for public displays of fireworks before they can be shot off legally.

As of yesterday, Herbst reported, not a single application had been filed.

Borough Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer, who usually is notified of any impending fireworks display in Pottstown or its suburbs, said he hadn't heard of anyone who was expecting to file an application not even the German club.

IN THE PAST few years, the German club's "private" display was witnessed by hundreds of non members who lined the edges of streets near the club property at 52 Reynolds avenue.

As for illegal fireworks, the fire marshal said that several small shipments had arrived in the borough but had been sent back to their out-of-state manufacturers.

Out-of-State manufacturers can send fireworks by express into Pennsylvania, Herbst explained, but express companies locally have refused to deliver them here without consent of the fire marshal's office.

Herbst, naturally, did not give such consent, for the 1950 borough fire code outlaws the manufacture, storage, sale or use of any fireworks except those set off at public displays by State-approved experts.

THE PAST FOURTH of July's biggest local display, at Memorial park, will not be repeated this year. The display was in conjunction with a fund-raising carnival. The park association, which sponsored the carnival the past year was unable to arrange for one this year.

That there is a crackdown on illegal fireworks outside as well as inside Pottstown was indicated yesterday by Reading State police.

They reported that Nathaniel Earl Sherman, Douglassville, RD 1, proprietor of Sherman luncheonette near Douglassville, had posted $500 bail to (Continued on Page Nineteen)

Curbs Planned Again to Ease Water Problem

With fresh complaints of an acute water shortage in the North End registered, the borough manager said last night that curbs on water usage—similar to the past year's—would have to go into effect.

Manager Horace B. Gulden didn't set an exact date for the curtailment but indicated it might start early next week.

The proposed action would mean that residents would have to stop watering all lawns and plants, washing cars, hosing sidewalks, and any other practices that consume large amounts of water.

Gulden said that he received five complaints of shortages the past Monday.

Actually, the borough has plenty of water. But in the hot Summer days—when people use 20 percent more water than they do on a normal day—the borough's water system cannot pump and carry the extra load.

The system is inadequate.

“YOU CAN'T push six million gallons of water through pipes that were made to carry three million,” Gulden said last night.

“The family downstairs from me has three little girls and naturally they're sticky and dirty from playing. And now the mother can't even wash them for bed. It's pathetic.”

“I've seriously been thinking of not paying my taxes,” he said. “One of the principles behind taxation is ‘benefits received.’ And I don't see where we're getting even a minimum of benefits. It's not the money. It's the principle of the thing.”

Gulden has been working steadily in an effort to get the Evans street pumping station job finished so that more water could be pumped up to the area before the shortage hit.

BUT EVEN after the job is complete, a curtailment or water usage of some kind would probably have to remain in effect.

Gulden isn't sure how much the pumping station revamping will benefit the North End. He knows it will improve the situation, by how much is still unknown.

Somewhere around one million gallons of water a day are used up by residents.

Articles of incorporation and a budget were the items of discussion when representatives of Boyertown Joint School authority met last night.

During the three-hour session, which began at 8 o'clock in the Boyertown High school library, the presidents and secretaries of the 12 school boards that make up the jointure signed the articles of incorporation for the authority.

Under the incorporation ruling, the authority would be made up of 12 members, one from each district.

The representatives cannot be members of the school board in their district.

Once approval of the incorporation is received from Harrisburg, the authority will proceed to elect its officers. The jointure will then be known as the Boyertown Area Joint school authority.

THE GROUP also voted to adopt a budget of $278,875 to cover the expense of operating the joint school for its first year. The budget originally was drawn up for the Boyertown district, but expanded to include the new member districts.

Approved also were the appointment (Continued on Page Nineteen)

Proposed Aid to Hospitals Increased

Recommended State appropriations for Pottstown and Memorial hospitals for the next two years $15 and $16 to treat each patient are higher than the past biennium per day.

The two local hospitals are among 178 State-aid hospitals which had requested $8 per day for all charity patients.

During the 1951-53 biennium hospitals functioning through the State-aid plan received $6.50 per patient per day.

Under the plan the State pays money to the hospitals for patients who cannot afford to pay for treatment. It costs hospitals between $15 and $16 to treat each patient

POTTSTOWN HOSPITAL received $22,000 during the last biennium. It was reported by Administrator A. C. Seawell.

Under the recommendations made to the General Assembly for all hospitals participating in the program, Pottstown hospital would receive $48,000.

Administrator Albert P. Pollick of Memorial hospital reported $22,000 State appropriation during the past biennium. New recommendations call for $26,000 to Memorial.

The recommended appropriation for Phoenixville hospital is $32,000.

Seawell explained the State aid for patients at Pottstown hospital during the past biennium amounted to only $5.25 because the hospital took care of more charity patients than the State appropriation would cover at $6.50 per patient day.

Milk Dealer Groups Hold Social Meeting

Milk dealers of three East Pennsylvania districts came to Pottstown Tuesday with their wives for an inter-area social meeting.

About 150 dealers and guests attended a dinner at the Brookside Country club, where they heard informal talks by two area presidents.

Rudy Yohonic, Woodstown, president of Lehigh dealers' association; and William Zimmerman, president of Reading area dealers, were the two who spoke briefly.

Before the dinner, the dealers spent the afternoon playing golf on the Brookside course.

After dinner, they and their wives played cards and danced to the music of Ken Nichols' orchestra.

Members of the Philadelphia Suburban, Lehigh and Reading Milk Dealers' associations attended the "get-together," which was strictly social, no business being transacted.

Damage Totals $500 In Swamp Pike Crash

The stretch of Swamp pike near Fruitville hotel, scene of numerous serious auto accidents, was the scene of another one early Tuesday morning when a car smashed into a utility pole.

The driver, 19-year-old Kenneth L. Hettrick, Linfield, escaped with a cut of the right elbow. He was treated at the office of Dr. Ivan Hess, Limerick.

Damage to his car totaled $500. Jeffersonville State police, who investigated, said he was traveling south on Swamp pike at 1 o'clock when his car went out of control.

Slaughterhouse Cowboys Go Into Action Again

PHILADELPHIA, July 1 (AP) — The slaughterhouse cowboys were busy again today in South Philadelphia.

Every once in a while a steer headed for slaughter breaks loose, and roams the streets of the city before he is roped, returned to the pen and sliced up into choice cuts.

Today a 700-pound steer escaped from the Joseph L. Guints slaughter house. It trotted about three miles, paying no attention to red traffic lights, motorists or pedestrians. Finally the steer was cornered on an empty lot—and back it went to meet its fate.

THURSDAY, JULY 2, 1953

No man can climb out beyond the limitations of his own character.
—John, Viscount Morley.

Street Repairs Started

YESTERDAY was hot, sultry and not at all ideal weather for laboring under roasting sun.

That didn't deter the borough from launching in serious fashion its $100,000 street improvement program. The program will cover 15 new sections on 12 borough streets, which means hardly a motoring soul in the borough will not be affected by the new smooth roadways.

It was good to see the dirt actually flying. Pottstown has been in need of many new streets. While this program will not cure all Pottstown's highway ills or fill all the holes, still it is a great step in the right direction.

The borough highway powers that be and the borough manager are entitled to much praise for getting this project under way.

Hide That Gun

THE accidental killing of a ten-year-old West Chester boy by his 15-year-old playmate serves as another horrible example why firearms should not be left around where youngsters can get at them.

Rare is the adventurous youth who on seeing a gun won't pick it up, examine it and suddenly envision himself as roofter-shootin'-tootin' Gene Autry or Roy Rogers. Parents make a great mistake in not keeping firearms—if they must have them—locked up and away from children's sight and reach. The penalty for failure—or even forgetfulness—is very great indeed.

In the West Chester incident, the gun was stolen. Which is a grim lesson to even those who do not have children around their property. There is great possibility that an Autry adorer may break into a house, grab a gun and be on his way to death and tragedy.

So, if you must have a gun around, keep it well away from youthful temptation.

Night Bloomer

THERE'S something about Karl H. Steinle's night-blooming cereus that fires the mind with imagination and wonderment.

For the past five years one flower has bloomed magically in the dark of night; then like an Arab has folded up and returned to oblivion.

This year three flowers bloomed—and disappeared.

Were the other two curious about the world that the original one must have told them about?

Was it too hot for sleeping?
Why didn't the blooms stick around for awhile?

It is not for humans to try to understand the whys of the night life of the night-blooming cereus. It is, however, for the concern of the cereus plant itself. Its understanding must be deep and plausible.

But in this age of atomics and electronics, it is considerably beyond human understanding. All we can do is wonder.

Creeping TVA

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER's allusion to the Tennessee Valley Authority as an instance of "creeping socialism" has loosed a swarm of hornets in the seven-state area served by that enterprise. He had much support there in the election, and not a few critics are finding his present stand inconsistent with that of last October.

TVA's defenders point to the great industrial growth, to the cheap power for homes and farms, to the wartime value of TVA, and to the $181 million which TVA has repaid to the federal Treasury.

All that is beside the point made by the President. TVA was built with taxpayers' money primarily as a "flood control" measure. That is a proper function of government.

The pretense, however, was fraudulent. What happened was that vast sums of public money were invested in a federal power project. With the right kind of bookkeeping, it can show a "profit." Thus subsidized, the people of the area like it.

Few influential public figures in the TVA area now dare to oppose such a popular institution. Thus we have a perfect instance of the way in which socialism creeps upon us and comes to be hailed with delight—precisely as the President asserted.

Women Warned: Nudity Will Backfire

Women Are Schemers
To the Editor: Women are always trying to scheme up some new way to attract the attention of men, but this idea they have of going half-naked in public is liable to backfire on them.

Everybody knows that most men are foolish and susceptible. Why is it then that they don't fall in love with the first woman who makes eyes at them?

It's because most women disgust them, that's why. When they finally do fall in love, it's because they've finally found a woman who disgusts them less than the others.

The trouble is now that women are making themselves more disgusting than they need to be with their hankers and shorts.

They're showing off all their imperfections in bright sunlight and right under the candid eyes of observing men. They'll never fool any men into falling in love if they keep this up.

Concealment is the art they should practice. With only their faces showing they can hide behind a mask of powder and paint and fool all the men—except the smart ones, that is.

WASHINGTON Governor of Tennessee Pleads for TVA Funds

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, July 1—Gov. Frank G. Clement of Tennessee has been conducting a Nation-wide lobby drive for Federal funds for the Tennessee Valley Authority that matches the high-pressure practices so frequently charged against the nation's greatest corporations. Yet he has not registered as a special pleader seeking to influence legislation, as provided by law.

The Chief Executive of Andrew Jackson's State has not limited his begging letters to members of Congress in his effort to force the Senate to restore $51,000,000 of TVA appropriations eliminated by the House. He has tried to mobilize the members of State Legislatures throughout the country, urging them to bring pressure on Congress.

He denounces the "power lobbyists" as responsible for the cuts, which he adds, will "paralyze" the Tennessee Valley and "cripple" its natural resources. In letters to politicians and local legislators of almost every state, he begs them to "come to the rescue of the Tennessee Valley."

FURTHER ACTIVITIES: But the Clement promotion of larger appropriations for his area embraces even more extensive activities. The Tennessee Railroad and Utilities Commission has implored similar agencies in every state to memorialize Congress in favor of more money than the House has allowed. Many have responded favorably, but quite a number of recipients of these panhandling missives have denounced them as "shameful and humiliating."

Governor Clement, unfortunately for him, impounded State legislators unknown to him, obtaining their names from an annual volume published by the Council of State Governments.

In several instances, he wrote to industrialists and public utility representatives who agree with President Eisenhower that TVA is an example of "creeping socialism." Their replies are hardly printable.

DEMAND FOR INQUIRY EXPECTED: Ironically, although Clement began his letter-writing propaganda on May 1, his tactics became known on the very day when Representative Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., of New York demanded that the Department of Justice and Internal Revenue Bureau investigate the alleged lobbying work of five New York utilities in the controversy over development of power on the Niagara River.

It is understood that when the dispute over TVA appropriations reaches the Senate floor, there will be a similar demand for an inquiry into Governor Clement's unprecedented attempt to interfere in national legislative procedure.

Baseball tops golf on hill. Although President Eisenhower is the most enthusiastic and lowest-scoring White House golfer since Warren C. Harding, baseball remains the most popular sport with members of Congress.

MANY ARE TOO OLD to play 18 or even nine holes of golf a day. Younger MC's can't afford the time or the money for golf. All can pay a few bucks to watch a baseball game at Griffith stadium, although our team is hardly worth watching this year.

But this is not a sports column item. Congressional regard for the national game has politico-legal significance. If the D of J's indictment of baseball as a monopoly should be upheld by the Supreme Court, thereby outlawing the essential reserve clause, Congress will immediately reverse the Supreme Court by special legislation.

It is doubtful if the high tribunal would declare baseball to be an illegal monopoly. A majority are fans, which derives from "fanatics."

Ban the Driver
To the Editor: "Cold Rod" was talking through his muffer when he advocated banning "hot rods" (Ban Hot Rodders, Readers Say, July 1).

Pennsylvania's inspection requirements are rigid enough to exclude unsafe cars. The rest is up to the driver. A crack-down on reckless driving may be called for, but the "hot rods" themselves are usually nothing more than family cars with stepped-up efficiency and appearance.

Most "hot rods" can be out-accelerated and outrun by the Detroit version of the family sedan, some of which boast over 200 horsepower under the hood.

The perfectly-legal English imports, too, reach speeds well over 100 mph.

One Gal's Opinion

IF I HAD my choice of jobs this week I'd elect to be an elevator operator at the Waldorf-Astoria. Imagine the electric moment if tenant Douglas MacArthur and Harry Truman happened to glide into the same lift at the same time—and imagine the igloo atmosphere!

I'm happy to note that one of my favorite Manhattan cabbies, Harry Newman, is still dispensing appropriate motorized refreshment. The past Winter I described him as the Sherman Billingsley of the taxi brigade because he kept thermos bottles at his side and offered shivering fares hot coffee, tea and cocoa to take the chill off as they cruised from Wall Street to 73d, or wherever.

Well, now it's a portable refrigerator that big-hearted Harry keeps next to his driver's seat, and his suffering, stewing passengers get chilled soft drinks "on the house." Final touch: Harry also keeps a bottle of salt tablets handy in case riders dig that form of cooling off.

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

GORDON X. is a Mongolian idiot. "Dr. Crane, I feel as if I shall lose my mind about Gordon," his mother protested miserably.

"Our doctor says we should place him in an institution where he will be surrounded by other children of low IQ."

"For he says it isn't fair to our other two youngsters for us to try to look after Gordon in our home."

"But I feel it would be so inhumane to follow that suggestion. And maybe I have been at fault for Gordon's condition, because I smoked cigarettes during my pregnancy."

"I'm so confused and tormented with doubts that I feel as if I shall lose my mind. What do you psychologists think about such a case?"

ORDINARILY, WE AGREE with the family physician's advice in Gordon's case, even though this may seem callous on first glance.

But Gordon's IQ is so very low he will probably remain at the infant level. Many of these very deficient children are scarcely more accomplished than a vegetable!

They can't look after their toilet wants. They may not be able to put on their own shoes, let alone lace them. They are unable to go to school.

But they impose an unfair burden on the home life where other children are involved.

For the parents unwittingly lavish so much time and money and care on the semi-helpless idiot or imbecile, that they ignore the needs of their normal youngsters.

FOR EXAMPLE, here's a Chicago girl, aged 16, who has never been able to read a single word. Yet her doting parents have spent a small fortune on private tutors for her.

They refuse to face facts, and insist she is fairly smart, despite psychological tests to the contrary.

Their reaction is not unnatural. But it is tragic for they have ignored their other three children.

As a result, two of the latter are now in a juvenile detention home!

So what is better? To prejudice the proper development of your normal children in order to coddle a feeble-minded tot who cannot develop, anyway?

Or to send the retarded youngster to a group where he can fit into their level of play and limited interests?

Furthermore, the normal children feel embarrassed when a subnormal is in the home. They hesitate to bring playmates home. So their emotional and social life is warped.

HEAVEN HELP HER!

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, July 1—With the postponement of "No Business Like Show Business," Ethel Merman and groom, Bob Six, will linger here only a few days to try to sublet the big house they had rented from Jean Simmons and Stew Granger.

The Merm will put her kids in camp, and "camp out" in Denver, her mate's home town, for the Summer. "NBLSB" also leaves Mitzi Gaynor free. So if she doesn't up and elope with Jack Bean, Mitzi may be to B'way to do the show, "Next Week, East Lynne." (Hey! Wasn't that the title of a Main Stem flop few years ago?)

Mickey Rooney wants to buy a land cruiser like Ray Anthony's. Ray's has hot and cold water, telephone, tape recorder and TV set. Cost $49,000. Rooney's business manager will no doubt tell him he'd be a foolerder to spend $5 like that.

THE GWYNNEY REPORT: Ida Lupino and Howard Duff have been tiffing steadily for over a week. . . . Pat Nierny (Mon a Freeman's ex) has perked up a lot since Melinda Markey came into his life. . . . Actor John Ericson and Milly Coury, the radio thrush, have put off their wedding date again. Now it's supposed to be in September. . . . Penny Edwards of the movies, and TV director, Ralph Winter have a late Fall date with the Stork. . . . If Lili St. Cyr means it about going back to her husband in NY, a certain cowboy star will fill the Los Angeles river bed (now dry) with his tears. . . . Barbara Stanwyck and Bob Wagner aren't making the rounds of public places lately—if they're still going 'round and 'round at all. . . .

At least four women have lily plants that are in the blooming stage. They are Mrs. Dolor Schenley, 821 North Hanover street, whose plant has nearly 40 blossoms; Mrs. John Stropko, 64 South Evans street, who also has a gardenia ready to bloom; Mrs. Michael Fedyk, 1052 South street, whose lily plant is only a year old, and Mrs. James Bracaglia, 161 East Howard street, Stowe, which had its first blossoms nearly three weeks ago.

The bill is one of those rare dollars churned out by the mint presses in 1928 and signed by W. O. Woods and A. W. Mullen. The coin collector's bible lists the bill's value at $4. But that doesn't mean Mrs. Bertolotti will be able to find a market for her rare dollar. Authorities on rare money claim old bills and coins are like stamps. You have to have a market for them.

Authorities Grab Suspected Slayer

STURGEON, BAY, Wis., July 1 (AP)—Sheriff Halme Rowe said today he had been informed by Shelby county (Ind.) authorities that James Duranty, 34, sought for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Sumner Harris, was in custody at Shelbyville, Ind.

Rowe said Shelby county Sheriff Robert Melzer had contacted him. He said he had no details on how the youth was captured, but that he planned to go to Shelbyville tomorrow. Extrajudicial action will be started immediately, he said.

Young Duranty left a note in the bedroom of his home across the yard from the Harris' residence, telling his mother he had killed the couple and advising her he was going to Michigan.

First degree murder warrants charging Duranty with the slaying of Harris, 53, and his wife, Grace, 50, were issued last night.

AN AUTOPSY revealed that Mrs. Harris had been strangled with her own dress which was pulled up around her neck and twisted tightly. Her head had been nearly severed also. Harris, publisher of a semi-weekly newspaper here, died of 44 stab wounds made with an army-type knife found in the blood-spattered home.

Dr. H. D. Grotz, who performed the autopsy, said Harris suffered a fractured right leg, apparently in a scuffle with his assailant. He said there was no evidence of sexual molestation of Mrs. Harris.

Authorities said young Duranty probably had a start of ten to 12 hours on his escape.

Meadowlark Draws Crowd With Singing

DAVENPORT, Ia., July 1 (AP)—Narcissus the meadowlark is being "tailed" by another meadowlark.

While Narcissus sits daily singing to his reflection in the chrome hubcap of an automobile, the other bird can be seen nearby watching Narcissus.

The other bird is shy and never approaches close enough so that bird enthusiasts can determine its sex. But the prevailing opinion is that it is Mrs. Narcissus, seeking to learn what her mate is up to.

Two schools of thought have sprung up regarding the strange behavior of Narcissus. One group believes Narcissus thinks his mate is hiding inside the automobile wheel.

The other school holds that Narcissus is just a vain bird stricken with admiration for his own image.

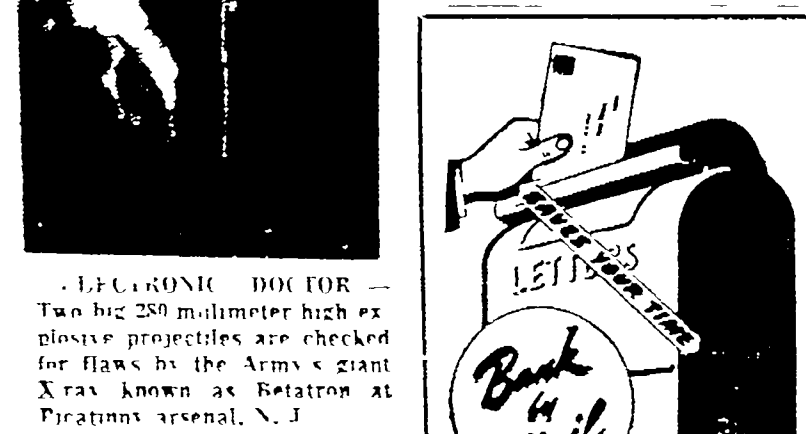

HUNDREDS of sightseers have come to see Narcissus. Those who approach cautiously often see Narcissus singing lustily to the automobile wheel.

But when the crowd gets too big, Narcissus flies to the top of a power pole and calmly sits there watching the would-be bird watchers.

Omaha Grizzly Bear Put Back in Zoo

OMAHA, July 1 (AP)—A 24-pound grizzly bear provided a wooded area for several hours today restricted to 15 members all before park officials and police captured the escaped zoo inmate.

No one was hurt although the bear lunged at a couple of his captors. About 100 children were playing in the park when the bearlout scene unraveled.

The very old grizzly apparently climbed over the 15 foot fence containing him at Riverview zoo in the south section of Omaha. A newsman first spotted the animal bounding across a driveway at the park caretaker's home about 9 a. m.

Searchers armed with pitchforks and sticks surrounded the bear in a wooded area and finally coaxed it into a portable cage baited with meat about three hours later.

IKE RE-ENTERS CONTROVERSY ON 'BOOK BURNING'

President Says Mistakes Made Due to Fright

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower reentered the "book burning" controversy today, expressing the view that mistakes have been made in the Government's book purge because someone got frightened.

Both the President and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) announced they have taken steps to find out to what lengths the State department has gone in its efforts to clean out alleged pro-Communist literature in US information libraries abroad.

Eisenhower indicated at his news conference that he would not have banished the detective stories of Dashiell Hammett, who has refused to tell congressional investigators whether he has been a Communist. Saving somebody got frightened, he added that he himself would not have been frightened.

Meanwhile McCarthy, who started the purge with a charge that more than 50,000 "Communist books" were on the library shelves, demanded to know why Whittaker Chambers' book, Witness, and other effective writings exposing communism have been removed from some library shelves.

A WELL KNOWN artist and author, Rockwell Kent, was brought before McCarthy's Senate investigation subcommittee today, and he refused to say whether he is a Communist or was one when he wrote books which were purchased for the overseas libraries.

Kent flourished a statement in which he charged there is a conspiracy to overthrow the American democracy "in favor of a fascist totalitarian government."

"I have no hesitation in charging that this committee plays an important part in that conspiracy and that its chairman, Sen. McCarthy, is its leader," Kent's statement said.

Moreover, in view of the forces at the disposal of this committee, I charge the conspiracy to be one to overthrow our form of government, if need be by force and violence."

(Central Press Correspondent)

HARVEY, Ill.—Although he is a direct descendant of Rufus B. Hayes, nineteenth President of the United States, handsome and athletic Bill Hayes has yet to cast a vote—and he's been eligible for six years!

The reason? He's always on the move. Since he has been old enough to vote, Bill Hayes has lived in Harvey, New York City, Chicago, Greencastle, Ind.; Dallas, Tex., and Burbank, Calif., but never long enough in the same precinct to qualify his ballot.

Blame this on the fact that, although only 27 years of age, popular Bill Hayes is the successful tenor on one of television's top variety shows.

What's more, Hayes has to his credit ten fast-selling records. The past summer, after co-starring with Shirley Booth in "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" in Dallas, he spent six weeks in Hollywood making "Stop, You're Killing Me," only recently released nationally.

BILL ASCRIBES his success, in large measure, to his parents.

"So far as I can find out," says Bill, "there was no theatre blood on either side of my family. I consider myself lucky to have a father and mother who are different from most parents who were never in show business themselves."

In my case, after we had talked it over carefully, and Mom and Dad had given me the benefit of their advice, I finally convinced them that a theatrical career was what I really wanted. From then on, I've had their full encouragement."

BILL HAYES was born on June 5, 1925, in Harvey, Ill. There he got his first taste of theater in the Thornton township High school production. Along with this, he sang in his Scottish Presbyterian church choir. He even did singing messenger work for Western Union at 15.

The future star entered De Pauw university in 1942 but left after a year to join the Navy Air Corps as an aviation cadet.

"Later," Bill recalls, "while at the Navy training base in Wooster, Ohio, three other trainees and myself formed a quartet to amuse fellow cadets."

"AFTER OUR discharge from service in 1945 all of us enrolled at De Pauw under the GI Bill of Rights."

On Feb. 1, 1947, while still a student, Bill Hayes married his high school sweetheart Mary Lorraine Hobbs.

Shortly after this, Bill says, "I was turned down four times by Duzy Du, the campus drama fraternity, and was told by the members to just forget about a career in show business."

Bill Hayes ignored this for he aspired to follow in the footsteps of his boyhood idol, handleader Fred Waring. So he studied at the Christiansen choral school and Fred Waring's Workshop in Pennsylvania.

BILL REPORTED for an audition with the Theater Guild for a part in the Broadway musical "Carousel" because his younger brother, Phil, was unable to make an appearance. Phil had a had throat that left him with an abrasive whisper. Bill took over and he sang himself into the job. Before leaving the smash hit, he had appeared in 102 performances.

During the play's run, the youthful singer decided to formalize his musical training. "With this in mind," he says, "I enrolled at Northwestern university and was graduated in 1949. It was from there that I went on to Chicago. I directed church choirs, sang in a synagogue, worked on a radio show over a local station and made a few brief TV appearances."

From there, Hayes went on to audition for Olsen and Johnson's "Funzabopppin'" and won the featured singing and romantic juvenile lead. He came to Madison Square Garden in New York with the zany musical in which it was his job to then the show singing the difficult prologue to "Pagliacci." While he sang, absolute bedlam reigned.

THE UNINHIBITED comics had staged one of their riotous curtain raisers and cannons were fired, fire crackers exploded. Rats, birds and crying babies were shot while members of the cast noisily chased each other across the stage and through the audience.

All this while... Bill Hayes stood

Hoover Backs Ike's Food Surplus Plan

NEW YORK, July 1.—Former President Hoover said today President Eisenhower's proposal to use the Nation's huge stocks of surplus food to feed hungry people abroad would save lives and make friends.

Hoover described as a "constructive recommendation" Eisenhower's request to Congress for authority to distribute surplus food to famine areas overseas. And Hoover added in a prepared statement:

"Such a humanitarian program will bring results in saving human life and building friendship. An additional reason could be given. These surplus food accumulations of our Government are perishable, and to withhold them until they spoil is unthinkable."

NACHSINS FILE Muncy Girl Injured APPEAL AGAINST In Grenade Explosion BOARD RULING

Couple Fights Decision
Denying Liquor
License

NORRISTOWN July 1—Harry and Katy Nachsin, restaurant owners of Ridge Pike Limerick today filed an appeal with the Montgomery county court from a decision of the State Liquor Control board denying them a liquor license.

Having operated the restaurant for 12 years the Nachsins applied for the license the past Nov 7 after they learned of a vacancy in the township's quota.

Two hearings were held before the board and on June 24 the applicants received notice that the license had been refused because the quota was filled, with one license having been granted to Robert S. and Helen S. Fenius, of Oaks.

The Nachsins charge in their appeal that Fenius is a Federal officer holder, holding a job as postmaster of Phoenixville. They further contend that he and his wife bought a restaurant the past November and made application for a permit while their application (Nachsins') was still pending.

The petitioners have requested the court to review the liquor board's action and Judge Harold G. Knight has scheduled a hearing for July 17.

Carolina Court Sets Execution for Two

COLUMBIA S. C. July 1—South Carolina's Supreme court today set July 24 as the execution date for two men convicted of murdering a Myrtle beach cab driver four years ago.

In a 2-2 decision the court refused a rehearing petition for Lanier Ray Gantt of Gastonia, N. C. and Shelton H. Gaines of Hartsville, S. C. Convicted in 1951 they had asked for a new trial on the grounds that the Horry county jury which found them guilty did not have jurisdiction because the State had not shown that the cab driver, Robert D. Oliver, was killed in Horry county.

The court denied the new trial motion May 20.

Scientist Uncovers Part of Old Fort

PITTSBURGH July 1—A Carnegie museum anthropologist said today he has uncovered a log wall which was part of the original Fort Pitt located at the junction of the Monongahela, Allegheny and Ohio rivers.

James Svauger said the wall apparently supported a firing platform over the Monongahela earthworks of the fort. He said the red and black oak logs are in good condition.

The site currently being leveled for the construction of a park will be covered in the next few days by grading operations unless a last minute change in landscape plans is made.

POLICE ATTEND ZONING CODE — SAFETY TALKS

Position of stakes placed in his yard. He was away from the door when on business when construction started.

THE NEW addition stands one foot from the property line. Zoning regulations specify it be at least four feet from the line.

The violation was discovered by Building Inspector Arthur S. Keppeler.

For the past year members of the planning and zoning commission have been studying necessary changes in the zoning ordinance.

The planning and zoning commission is expected to hold a public hearing with council when the amended code is prepared.

Special requirements for zoning are being granted by the zoning board of adjustment and this is the case in changes in zoning of sections of the borough sections which are now being considered for amendment.

Maxwell also is also secretary of the Pottstown Automobile Club. He began the discussion at the 2:30 o'clock conference in the courthouse by introducing Richard Brown Maxwell, chairman of the Governor's highway safety advisory committee.

Among the conclusions reached were that the State Motor Vehicle code needs reamending, and in using section clarified or eliminated.

The key to safety on the highways is rigid enforcement of the law by policemen who have been trained as traffic engineers, the panel members emphasized.

Among Pottstown area officials attending were Raymond C. Kelley, local justice of the peace, George W. Baise, Lower Pottsgrove township and Harr. Crusch, Lower Pottsgrove police chief.

'DEATH RAY' EMERGES AS NIGHTMARE WEAPON

Artist's concept of a death ray in action

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
(Central Press Correspondent)

WASHINGTON—In the great superarms duel between east and west, the death ray, to its growing arsenal?

Reports that Allied intelligence officers recently learned that the Reds have the first 140 projectors that cause planes several miles away to burst into flame are stirring some quarters here.

The death ray has been a favorite weapons myth since post World War I days. Before the advent of the atomic bomb made wholesale destruction a grim reality, science fiction writers had a field day predicting what a "death ray" might do.

Although the current report sounds like another fantastic Soviet claim, the possibility that East German scientists are working on the device is not discounted. Some scientific quarters consider the death ray a thoroughly practical device.

HIGH FREQUENCY sound waves currently are considered the best fuel for such a ray and work is pushing forward in a number of United States and British laboratories along this line. Their deadly potentials have been convincingly demonstrated on small animals and insects.

Engineers at the General Electric company have perfected a device which produces sound waves at 100 million per second, and predict that it will be useful in detecting flaws in steel.

Showing the death ray possibilities, John W. Butterworth, director of hyperphysics for the Brush Development company, last fall told the Fifth National Instrument conference in a scientific paper which received little notice that with vibrations of one million times a second diamonds and hard steel are shattered.

BUTTERWORTH said that stresses may be set up in a material equal to 1,500,000 times the pull of gravity and it is shaken apart.

These sounds are much higher than the human ear can register and man's senses believe them to be capable of killing any living thing in their path.

A British engineer, J. M. Symes, has been claiming for several years that he has a device which could annihilate whole armies with sounds so high pitched no one would hear them before the blood corpuscles were disintegrated. Death would come to them so suddenly they would know nothing about it at all," he adds grimly.

The scientific basis for this claim is disquieting to say the least. Dr. Julia F. Herrick of the Mayo Foundation in Rochester, Minn., reports that in laboratory tests super-sonic rays have torn animal tissues to pieces and raised the body temperature to as high as 140 degrees.

A PRACTICAL TWIST to these possibilities have been probed by U.S. Department of Agriculture engineers at Beltsville, Md., where such beams are being turned on vegetable and fruit pests.

Showing the far flung nature of these experiments, at Pennsylvania State College, white mice have been killed by high frequency sound waves such as those generated by jet engines of airplanes, and Dr. Horace O. Parrack of the U.S. Air Force Medical Laboratory has disclosed that rats and guinea pigs have been killed almost instantly by low power super-sonic beams that do not seem to bother man.

The normal sound ranges are from 20 to 20,000 cycles a second and people are seldom able to hear even 10,000 cycle noises. In General Electric Laboratories they have been doing tricks with a simple apparatus consisting of an ordinary headlight reflector which focuses the high pitched sound of a one inch long whistle.

GENERATING 25,000 cycles a second, the gadget will ignite cotton held at the focal point, suspend a cork in mid air and scramble an egg without breaking the shell.

"Death ray" speculations after World War I almost always envisaged light rays and the Russian reports which attribute manufacture of the first projectors to the Communist controlled Zeiss Optical works at Jena raise this possibility again.

However, scientists are inclined to believe that if there is any basis in fact for accounts that eye witnesses saw radio-directed Russian aircraft burst into flames and break up as they flew into the range of the "death ray" projectors, they should be credited to super-sonic devices.

The practicality of beaming rays great distances has been demonstrated by radar which now has been bounced off the moon. So the super-sonic death ray emerges as the next weapons nightmare.

DEFENSE BUDGET GETS BACKING OF PRESIDENT

Eisenhower Intervenes To Prevent Boost In Funds

WASHINGTON, July 1.—President Eisenhower intervened today to prevent a big boost by Congress in his $10 billion dollar defense budget. He warned that a cut for military protection would not only be made but would lead to "regimentation" of the United States.

The President sent a letter to Capitol Hill regarding his cut of nearly five billion dollars in President Truman's Air Force budget. His move, as disclosed as Democrats in the House sought to add at least a billion dollars to Air Force funds.

Raising his figures would only pile dollars upon expended dollars, the President said. Backers of the Eisenhower budget have said the Air Force already has some $5 billion dollars of unspent appropriations from previous years, largely for planes not yet completed.

The President set forth his views in a letter which Rep. Scrivner (R-Kan.) read as the House began sharp debate on a bill to appropriate $34,434,140,500 for the Defense department for the year when started today.

INCLUDED in the total is $11,048,000,000 for the Air Force—$5,970,000,000 less than former President Truman had asked and 240 million dollars below Eisenhower's own request.

The Eisenhower Administration's cutback has been the subject of bitter hearings and sharp running debate ever since it was announced. Less controversial have been other cuts he ordered in Truman's figures for the Army and Navy.

Throwing his military prestige into the campaign to ward off House increases in his figures, the President said his defense budget proposal represents his own views and bears his own personal endorsement in all major particulars.

1950 in believing a 16½ billion dollar defense budget was ample, just a few weeks before the Korean War started.

Representative Price (D Ill.) who wants to add $1,415,000,000, said Secretary of Defense Wilson's recommendations for air power cuts are extravagant as well as dangerous. His action folds the umbrella of our aerial protection.

At one point Mahon told the House that "hearsay" reports quoted Wilson as saying he would ignore any increases voted by Congress.

Hero Will Receive Top Navy Award

LANCASTER, July 1.—Clifford Stone, of Columbia, will receive the Navy Cross for extraordinary heroism while serving with a Marine unit in Korea.

Stone will receive the medal in a special ceremony Friday at the Philadelphia Naval Base. The 25-year-old Stone was cited for his action with a Marine infantry company on Sept. 16, 1951.

"His fearless initiative and selfless devotion to duty," the citation accompanying the medal reads, "were an inspiration to all who observed him and were directly responsible for the successful occupation of the enemy position."

Housework Easy Without Nagging Backache

Scrivner chairman of the Appropriations subcommittee which considered Air Force funds, told the House the cuts were "common sense reductions in transport and trainer planes, stockpiles of spare parts and manpower costs by eliminating waste. Faster manufacture of planes also will reduce the need for making appropriations years before they can be spent," he said.

Representative Mahon (D Tex.) who wants to add $1,175,000,000 to the Air Force appropriation said even the President cannot forget the future. He said Eisenhower joined "the rest of us" in...

OLD SOLDIER GOES TO SEA—Capt. Harvey H. Hecker, 76, veteran of the Spanish-American War, waves hello to New York after a 2120-mile trip from the Old Soldiers Home, Sandusky, Ohio, in Florence, his 15-foot homemade motor boat. Hecker built the boat from a $200 pre-cut kit and says it gave him a case of "boat fever." In November he started down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers, across the Gulf of Mexico to Florida, and then up the inland waterway to New York. He now plans to continue up the Hudson river to the Erie Barge canal and Lake Erie, completing a round-trip of close to 4000 miles back to Ohio.

Manner at News Conference Shows Ike Feels More at Home in His Job

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP) — Dwight D. Eisenhower has been president for more than five months, and that he's feeling more at ease in the world's hardest job can be guessed from this: He's much more relaxed at his news conferences.

Anyone who attended the first presidential news conference Eisenhower held, on Feb. 17, and then dropped around for the one he held today would have to be struck by the difference.

Then Eisenhower seemed to be unusually tense. He fumbled with his glasses, and made awkward gestures.

Reporters, a suspicious lot, suspected he didn't want to answer any questions at all.

EISENHOWER DID nothing to ease their fears at that first conference. He began by saying he had an appointment he must keep in 30 minutes. Which is something like inviting in guests, and then meeting them at the door with a warning that they mustn't stay too late. Whereupon Eisenhower started to discuss four topics he had picked out, and he talked—some called it a lecture—until all but 12 minutes of the time had been used up.

Reporters normally end the conference with a traditional "Thank you, Mr. President." Several were on their feet, trying to get recognition for questions, when Eisenhower abruptly said good-bye, and hurried out.

Contrast that with what happened today. He arrived promptly at 10:30 a. m. He said he had little to volunteer. Then he gave his week-end plans, and launched into a little speech in praise of those people in the satellite countries who value freedom more than they do their lives.

THAT TOOK only three minutes, and Eisenhower was ready for questions.

It's hot and muggy in Washington, and that absurdly decorated room where the news conferences are held was like an oven. Even the scantily dressed cupids, who hold up the lights in the corners, looked hot.

An easy time to be short tempered. Yet Eisenhower handled most of the questions easily, as if he might even be enjoying himself.

Once he showed a trace of irritation. He was asked what he thought of his support from the Republican majority on Capitol Hill. The President said he didn't think that was much of a question, and went on to say he thinks the Republicans are getting along okay.

ONE RATHER surprising development on Eisenhower's news conferences:

A president can avoid a lot of trouble, and save a lot of time, merely by saying "no comment" to any question he prefers not to answer.

The early bets were that Eisenhower would use this technique a lot, and one reporter went so far as to take along a little chart so that he could keep books on each "no comment". Eisenhower didn't use the words once, and he has continued to avoid them like poison ivy since.

Because he has chosen to give some kind of an answer to all questions, his conferences have had a tendency to run a half hour or longer.

POSSIBLY DUE to the heat, today's session was admirably short. The "Thank you, Mr. President," came, mercifully, after only 18 minutes.

Eisenhower was the coolest looking man in the room. But then he had one break.

He didn't have to take notes.

Sudden Recall of Key Communists May Mean Kremlin Row Near Climax

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Writer

Moscow's sudden recall of key Soviet emissaries, as well as Soviet army and civilian officials in East Germany, may mean a row in the Kremlin over post-Stalin policies is nearing a climax.

Events in East Germany and other captive nations have jolted Soviet propaganda in Europe and brought certain policies of the ruling hierarchy sharply into question.

Premier Georgi Malenkov, long the apostle of all-out economic exploitation of East Germany and Eastern Europe for the benefit of Soviet economy, may find himself on the defensive. But so may Lavrenty P. Beria, whose security forces must share the blame for events in Middle Europe.

Either or both may try to divert the blame to the Soviet army. In that event the showdown conceivably could blow up into an internal row at the top which could decide the Kremlin struggle for power.

JUST AS East German and Eastern Europe must figure largely in the forthcoming foreign ministers' meeting in Washington, the topics loom large in the Soviet huddle. The two meetings are unquestionably linked. If the Soviet huddle is carried out without an open blowup, some spectacular move to overshadow the Kremlin's political defeat in Europe must be cooked up in advance of the Western meeting.

Soviet leaders consider Germany the key to Europe. Any weakening of the Soviet position there threatens its position.

Market Value of Real Estate Increases

An increase of 3 percent in total market value of all Pennsylvania real estate during 1952 was reported yesterday by the State Tax Equalization board.

Included in the figures released by the board is a tabulation of the 1952 market values and assessed valuations of Montgomery county.

The market value for the county during the past year was slightly under a billion and a half dollars. Its assessed valuation for county tax purposes was a little over the 400 million mark.

According to the board the boost in assessed valuations in individual school districts was due generally to new building construction.

ASSESSED valuations made by school districts in the State range from 13 to 10.8 percent as compared with county assessment valuations which run from 19.8 to 36.7 percent of market value.

Pravda hinted at this in an angry editorial last week blaming Americans for all that happened in Germany. In one aside Pravda asked querulously why it wasn't clear long ago that a "criminal organization of adventurers" existed in the East sectors. It demanded those concerned "increase their vigilance and draw the necessary conclusions."

4-Day Siege Ends, Monkey Captured

PITTSBURGH, July 1 (AP) — A monkey from Honduras in Central America, who stowed away on a banana boat and then fought off tear gas to remain with the fruit he loves, was captured after a four-day siege.

The monkey, chattering what must have been imprecations, was chased 45 minutes in a tense scene at a Banana Supply company warehouse before he was unceremoniously grabbed by the tail and caged.

The monkey had fought off modern man and all his ingenuity, including a tear gas bomb, since Friday while he pranced happily about the rafters of the warehouse.

US Pushes for Showdown With Rhee, Envoy Expects Statement of Demands

SEOUL, Thursday, July 2 (AP)—The United States pushed for a quick showdown with President Syngman Rhee today after offering the South Korean leader last minute concessions to win his support of a truce with the Communists.

President Eisenhower's special envoy, Walter S. Robertson expected to receive some time today a written statement from Rhee revising South Korea's truce demands.

President Eisenhower told a press conference in Washington he believed a satisfactory solution to the truce was in the making but did not set a specific time.

Washington officials predicted a climax in the armistice crisis within the next 24 hours. By that time it was expected to become clear whether Rhee intends to abide by armistice terms acceptable to the United Nations or go it alone against the Chinese and North Korean Reds.

There were strong indications that if Rhee should continue his de-

PRESIDENT SAYS NO INTERVENTION

US Will Not Actively Aid Rebels Against
Red Tyranny

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower said today revolt sparked by tyranny seems to be spreading like wildfire in Iron Curtain countries. But he said there is no thought of active US intervention to liberate these nations.

Rebellion in the Soviet satellites, the President told a news conference, reinforces the idea that people who have know freedom rate it as the highest of human values and consider life itself worth spending to regain it.

Yet Eisenhower indicated there is little his Administration feels it can do now to liberate the satellite countries aside from statements and speeches to show them they still have friends standing by.

In effect, the president was repeating the stand to which he came around in the past year's political campaign, that this country should seek liberation of the satellites but only by peaceful means.

AS FOR THE great issue on the other side of the world, the Korean armistice muddle, Eisenhower said he has a deep conviction a satisfactory solution is coming. He didn't say how soon.

The situation is confused, he said, and differences with Korean president Syngman Rhee are an acute example of difficulties among allies dedicated to the same principles and ideals. He said that is the history of coalitions and we shouldn't be too discouraged, although the differences are very real.

WAITING FOR POLIO SHOTS—Part of the block-long line that formed at one of the 18 Montgomery, Ala., inoculation stations as polio fighters began giving some 30,000 children under ten years old shots of precious gamma globulin. Top Russian Officials Get Summons To Moscow From Kremlin Leaders

BERLIN, July 1 (AP)—Virtually all from their offices on Monday in response to the summons from Moscow, Allied officials said. Presumably they were gathered in the Kremlin tonight to explain what happened and why on June 17—the day two million unarmed East Germans suddenly rose and came so near overthrowing their Communist rulers in bloody riots.

Yesterday Soviet ambassadors Jacob Malik in London and Georgi Zhdanov in Washington started sudden plane journeys to Moscow, and Alexei Pavlov, the ambassador to Paris, said he would be going in a day or two.

Allied sources said they could not confirm whether Semyenov too had been called into the roundup. He is not so accessible to Allied officials as the lower echelon aides whose departure was successfully concealed until today.

Western informants in this sensitive listening post behind the Iron Curtain said the Russians obviously were fearful that the East German uprising might revive or spread to other satellite countries.

There were conjectures here that far-reaching policies may emerge from Moscow shortly.

Opposition Chieftain Ejected From Seat By Mossadegh Force

TEHRAN, Iran, July 1 (AP)—Ayatollah Seyed Abolghassem Kashani, fiery Moslem religious leader, who had attacked Premier Mohammed Mossadegh as a would-be dictator who ran the risk of being hanged, was turned out of his speaker's chair in Parliament today.

The Mossadegh forces defeated Kashani, a candidate for re-election, and chose instead a wealthy lawyer and landlord, Abdullah Moazami, by a vote of 41 to 31 in a secret ballot.

It remained to be seen whether the Premier's political cohorts would follow up the victory and put through Mossadegh's bill removing the claim of young Shah Reza Pahlavi to command of the armed forces, a measure which Kashani has been instrumental in blocking for more than three months.

The vote was preceded by wild fulminations in the Iranian press, indicating that the defeat of Kashani was anticipated.

SENATE OKAYS US Sinks Into Red for 9.3 Billion; FOREIGN AID BILL Humphrey Sets Plan to Borrow Cash

Senators Defeat Attempts
At Last Minute to Cut Measure

WASHINGTON, July 1 (AP)—The Senate tonight passed the Eisenhower Administration's $5,318,000,000 foreign aid bill after defeating three last-minute efforts to cut it sharply.

In passing the big bill for the fiscal year starting today, the Senate fixed a 1957 deadline for winding up of all military spending in the foreign aid program and 1956 for economic assistance.

The $5,318,000,000 measure is an "authorization" bill, which authorizes spending up to that figure. The exact amount is to be determined in an appropriation bill to be passed later. Some senators have served notice they will try to cut the appropriation bill below the $5,318,000,000 figure.

The Senate passed the authorization bill by a voice vote. It now goes to conference with the House which passed a measure authorizing $4,998,000,000.

The Administration suffered one setback during the Senate fight when the chamber voted, over Administration objections, to earmark part of the money for purchase of American farm surpluses.

ADVOCATES OF this cried that Congress should "do a little bit for Americans" as well as for foreign nations, but opponents argued that a foreign aid bill was no place for a crop disposal program.

The bill approved by the Senate was only 156 million dollars under the $5,474,000,000 requested by the Eisenhower Administration as a rock bottom figure.

However, the Administration itself had knocked more than two billion off the $7,600,000,000 originally proposed by Truman.

Police said the slayer gave a list names of his employers in the assassination but police described the list as fantastic and unlikely.

AZZEDINE BEY'S death raises his brother, Sadek Bey, to the position of first in succession to the Hussein throne. In Tunisia, the succession does not go to the ruler's son but to the next eldest member of the Royal family.

The French, on occasion, have threatened to depose the Bey. The death of the Prince, whose title is Bey Du Camp, is likely to provoke violent repercussions in the protectorate already torn by bloodshed for the past two years.

Reds Can't Beat The Heat at Coney

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—The 12 second-string Communists now free on bail awaiting appeal of their conspiracy convictions can't go to Coney Island, Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan ruled today.

They asked through counsel that limits of their bail be extended so they could escape the city heat by subway and go to the Coney Island beaches.

The hitch is that Coney Island is part of Brooklyn and lies in the Eastern Federal district of New York.

They were convicted in Manhattan which lies in the Southern Federal district and they'd be skipping bail if they left its boundaries.

Wildcat Strike Stalls St. Louis Transit

ST. LOUIS, July 1 (AP)—A sudden unauthorized strike by AFL operators halted bus and streetcar service here, producing traffic snarls that taxed police.

No buses or streetcars ran, despite pleas for a return to work by the mayor, the State mediation director and union officers.

There was no prospect of an immediate end to the wildcat strike. The Public Service company normally handles more than 500,000 passengers daily in St. Louis.

Mayor Raymond R. Tucker said the strike "seriously threatens health and safety."

THE WALKOUT came as the mayor was attempting to end another strike, by AFL truck drivers, that has halted construction projects valued at 75 million dollars for seven weeks.

Union officers said the strike was "definitely unauthorized."

Many workers were unable to get to their jobs. Thousands of additional automobiles hit the streets, whistle-blowing policemen labored in the 30-plus

PROGRAM UNDERWAY—Men were working full force yesterday on the borough's $100,000 major street improvement program. Here, men are preparing to lay curbing on Kenneth street. The program, which was started this week, will consist of the rebuilding of 13 sections of 12 streets in the borough. This job will cost around $81,000. As soon as streets are built, adjacent property owners will be billed for two-thirds of the cost of the work. The money that comes in will then be used for more street improvements. Theoretically, if everyone pays up, the borough will get $300,000 worth of new streets for the $100,000 bond issue they floated. The men above are, left to right, Roland Bean, Jackson Reutcher, and Foreman Alfred Smith. The E. J. Breneman Inc. company is in charge of the project.

Canadian Killed Soon After Africa Arrival

NAIROBI, Kenya, July 1 (P)—Less than four hours after arriving in Kenya, a middle-aged Canadian motor car agent, J. S. Richards, was shot tonight by African Mau Mau men in Government road, in the center of Nairobi.

Richards, who had arrived in the afternoon by air from South Africa on a business trip, later died in a hospital.

An African police constable was shot dead in the same incident. The killers escaped in a taxi. Police believed an attempt was being made by the terrorists to rob a gunsmith's shop and they were disturbed by the constable in a dark alley off the main street.

Lutheran Junior Choir Sings at St. Matthew's

LUDWIGS CORNER—Mrs. W. J. Ash, choir, Phone 8-2345. Del. Edwin Kuritz 321-W.

The junior choir of St. Matthew's Lutheran church sang an anthem, "Sing To the Lord," at this week's services. The Rev. Casner pastor, spoke on the story of the two builders, one building on rock and the other on sand.

Altar flowers were given by Dr. Bishop in memory of her brother Earl.

The sermon by the Rev. Link, pastor of St. Matthew's Reformed church, was the third in his series of the seven churches. A short message from the Bible will precede the Holy Communion service on Sunday.

flowing through hoses and lawn sprays that keep the kitchen faucets in the North End dry.

The past summer, the borough hired a Philadelphia engineering firm to study the present water system and make recommendations as to what had to be done to bring the system up to present needs and future needs.

The report was completed and given to the borough less than two months ago.

The project now being worked on is one of those recommendations.

ANOTHER recommendation is the 500,000 gallon water tank that the borough is thinking of buying and setting up in the North End.

The outlying sections and those at the highest elevations suffer for it.

The borough during the past year has taken steps to solve the problem. Right now, a project is being worked on that should alleviate the North End shortage somewhat.

A pumping station at Evans street that pumps water into the whole upper area is being enlarged. Larger mains are being installed in several places.

But it may take as long as a month to complete that project, Gulden stated.

MEANWHILE, residents in those areas are going without water.

One of those who registered a complaint last night was Vernon Evans, Linden apartments.

Evans lives in one of the higher apartments in the section.

"We didn't have any water on Saturday, had a trickle Tuesday night and didn't have any tonight," he said last night.

Evans angrily reported how he was unable to wash his five-year-old son before putting him to bed.

Republic of Korea troops had moved out confidently in the darkness early Wednesday on the East-Central front, seizing both Lookout and Virginia hill in swirling fight ing with bayonets and grenades.

US ADVISERS with the ROKs had reported the Chinese "just folded" and the Koreans were digging in and mopping up hundreds of Reds trapped in the surge northward.

Then at daybreak, the Communists struck back. By 6:15 a. m. They had driven the South Koreans from Lookout. An hour and 25 minutes later, the Reds also were in full command of Virginia hill.

Bad weather hampered most fighter bomber strikes along the front, but Navy carrier planes poured bombs and bullets on bunkers and trenches on the Eastern front, touching off violent explosions.

Renovated Spring City Free Library To Hold Open House Program Tonight

The board of trustees of Spring City Free Public Library announced an open house will be observed at the library tonight from 7 to 9 o'clock for the public to inspect the annex and renovations to the old library room.

No books will be circulated tonight, but tomorrow the library will be open from 3 to 5 and 7 to 9 p. m. for the circulation of books, and every Tuesday and Friday the same hours until further notice. Many new books have been added for young and old.

The entire project, erection of the annex and redecoration of the old room, was accomplished by 54 men who donated their services in their spare time under the supervision of I. Blaine Geyer, who is a member of the faculty of Spring City high school, a member of Spring City Lions club and vice-president of the library board. Ground was broken in September, 1951.

The need for more space was apparent many years, but was not thought possible because of the high cost. Geyer suggested that an annex could be erected and felt there were enough community-minded men who would be willing to donate their services. Geyer's careful planning and supervision has been the greatest factor in making a bigger library possible. Floor and shelf space are almost doubled.

THE ANNEX, 20 by 24 feet, of frame construction, a basement and automatic heating system with Summer hookup, is fully insulated. The sidewalls are painted light green and the trim and shelves a shade darker. The light fixtures match those previously in use. There is a hardwood floor and block ceiling.

Entrance to the new room is via an archway from the old room, which has been redecorated in keeping with the new. Although there are two separate rooms, the effect is that of one large cheerful area. Additional chairs and tables are available for those who wish to read or do research.

The library was founded in Memorial hall and opened Feb. 5, 1910, with Elizabeth Rogers as librarian. Miss Rogers served in that capacity for 35 years.

In 1931 the library was moved to its present site and housed in a pre-fabricated building owned by Spring City school board. In 1934 that building was dismantled and sold, and a one-room schoolhouse at the rear of the grade school building was moved to the present site on Broad street. That one-room building formed the basis of the present structure.

AT PRESENT the library receives operating funds from the Women's Library club, Spring City Community chest and Spring City borough council. The Spring City school board supplies light and heat and bears a great deal of the expense of maintaining the building.

Officers and trustees now serving are: J. G. Wiessner, president; I. Blaine Geyer, vice-president; Mrs. Andrew Bell, secretary; Mrs. Robert E. Peifer Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Herbert Paugh, Harry Lee.

Royersford Lions club will present one of the outstanding sports activities of the Summer on Wednesday, July 15. On that date the Lions will play host to four members of the Middle Atlantic Blind Golf association at Spring-Ford Country club.

The match, to be conducted along with the regular semi-monthly dinner meeting, will also feature George Fazio, a well-known pro golfer who captured the Canadian Open championship and finished fourth in the recently completed National US open at Oakmont CC, Pittsburgh.

The Middle Atlantic association was formed in 1949 in an effort to provide and stimulate interest in a popular outdoor activity for the sightless. Each year since that date the members have staged a tournament for its members.

NOW TOURNAMENTS are being held monthly at various country clubs and golf clubs throughout the Philadelphia district. With Alman laying the foundation for the association, the Middle Atlantic group has grown until it now numbers 25 members.

Program officials for the Royersford club have expressed a desire to have all interested fans attend the match. Persons who desire to attend will have the opportunity to form a gallery and to follow the golfers over the entire nine-hole course.

fourths of a cup of cottage cheese through a strainer and adds the cheese and then the lemon saccharin to the mixture.

Two tablespoons of grated lemon rind and a half-cup of evaporated milk are stirred in, and finally, she folds in a stiffly-beaten egg white.

The mixture is poured into a graham cracker crust (special, low-calorie graham cracker crust arrived on the market, to make the cheese cake calorie score still lower), and chills about four hours, until firm.

Six healthy-sized slices can be cut from the cake, she promised.

Mrs. Linderman also makes a 100-calorie orange sherbet with three-fourths a cup of orange juice, a tablespoon of rind and a single saccharin tablet dissolved in two tablespoons lemon juice.

She adds the mixture to a tablespoon of unflavored gelatin dissolved over a low heat in a fourth-cup of water and cools thoroughly.

Next, she sprinkles a half-cup of non-fat dry skim milk over a half-cup cold water in a quart bowl, and beats it with a rotary beater until the mixture "stands in peaks."

Slowly, she stirs in the orange mixture, and pours into a quart refrigerator ice tray to freeze, without stirring until firm.

The recipe makes four servings, and one and a fourth cans of unsweetened pineapple chunks plus a half-cup of unsweetened pineapple juice can substitute for the orange juice and rind.

To berries, store cakes and other quick, Summer desserts, Mrs. Linderman adds a fat-free whipped topping "for dress."

Seixas, Nielson Reach Wimbledon Net Finals

WIMBLEDON, England, July 1 (AP)—Vic Seixas, Philadelphia straggler, and Kurt Nielson, Philadelphia straggler, reached the Wimbledon net finals today. Seixas, seeded 12th, defeated the 11th-seeded Nielson in the quarterfinals. Seixas, seeded 12th, defeated the 11th-seeded Nielson in the quarterfinals.

The last Australian in the big tennis show, Mervyn Rose, tumbled before Seixas in a slugfest match which lasted two hours and 40 minutes. The score was 6-4, 10-12, 6-4, 5-3.

Late in the afternoon, under an overcast sky, the merry Dane who insists tennis is only a game tied into old Jaroslav Drobny, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

With Nielson ahead 5-3 in the second set, the overcast sky gave way to a downpour and for 30 minutes the center court was deserted. After the resumption it took only 18 minutes for Nielson to make a shambles out of Drobny.

SEIXAS was second seeded, Rose third and Drobny fourth. Nielson wasn't even in sight — at least not with Wimbledon's official raters. But the good looking Dane has blood vessel in his leg, exhaustion and a blistered hand. And he's playing like he had all those ails, Coral Gables, Fla., then first seeded Ken Rosewall, Australia, and now Drobny.

Besides playing his slam bang brand of tennis Nielson helps operate a restaurant jazz spot in Copenhagen, writes a newspaper column and studies engineering.

Seixas won the first set easily and looked as though he had Rose in his pocket. Then came the second set and Rose was anything but whipped.

In addition the sweltering noon

It took two hours to play the first three sets with the temperature at 78, the stands jammed the humidity high and not a breath of a breeze anywhere.

THE FINAL GAME was deuced four times before Seixas sent across a screaming backhand placement for a point and Rose punched a return out of bounds.

Less than 10 minutes later Nielson and Drobny took over center court, packed with 16,000. This was the match that largely accounted for a crowd to wait all night in the rain for standing room tickets.

Drobny, twice a Wimbledon finalist but never a winner, is a great favorite in London.

The square built Czech reportedly was suffering from an injured leg and a blistered hand. And he played like he had all those ails, Coral Gables, Fla., then first seeded Ken Rosewall, Australia, and now Drobny.

Nielson looked like the winner before the rain. After the down pour he ran off with the show.

PAA at Linfield

The PAA juniors will hold a practice game at Linfield tonight. The Pottstown team will leave the YMCA at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon for a game at Seton Hall university.

CONSOLATION PRIZE—Weary but still smiling after being defeated at Wimbledon yesterday, Jaroslav Drobny, the Czech who left his Communist dominated country, receives a hug from his bride, the former Rita Anderson. Drobny lost his semi-final match in the men's singles, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 to Kurt Nielsen of Copenhagen.

Red Sox' Mel Parnell Hands Yanks 9th Loss In Row, 4-0

BOSTON, July 1 (AP)—The stag Brooklyn Monday night Mike Garvin single Dick Gernert's single getting New York Yankees lost via of Cleveland held them with Sammy White's double and Tom Umphlett's single added two more to the Sox' 4-0 victory.

The Yanks' defeat wasn't as disastrous as it might have been for second place Cleveland also lost, 4-2, to Detroit to remain five games back. The Chicago White Sox, however, moved within 5 1/2 games of the lead by smothering St. Louis, 13-4.

Slumping ever closer to the dogs they trampled during their recent 15 game winning streak, the Yanks at their lowest ebb since '45 when they also dropped nine in a row under Manager Joe McCarthy. The all-time Yankee score is 13 straight defeats in 1953.

Parnell was the complete master of the once bristling Yankee lineup. The best they could manage was four singles never more than one in the same inning. Parnell fanned seven and walked only one.

It was the second time the Yanks had been shut out in their last four games not counting an exhibition game blanking by

VIC GEZZI TIES COURSE RECORD IN PGA ROUND

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., July 1 (AP)—Giant Vic Gezzi fired a near-perfect, five-under-par 66, tying a 20-year-old course record, today to lead the first round qualifying in the Professional Golfers association tournament.

The six-foot-two, 200 pound pro from Lakewood, N. Y., 1941 champion, missed only one fairway—the 18th—as he whipped around the tight, par 34-35-71 Birmingham Country club in 24:32.

The course record was set by Al Watrous two decades ago.

Gezzi's sparkling round snatched a few brief moments of glory from two rank outsiders—graying 48-year-old Jimmy Hines of Glenview, Ill., and chubby Jim Brown of Weston, Mass., who posted 67's within ten minutes of each other in the mid-afternoon.

Then followed tied at 68, two sharp-shooting southerners—Chandler Harper, home professional from Portsmouth Va., and Johnny Palmer, a tourist from Badin, North Carolina.

THESE FIRST day leaders played in semi-privacy while a crowd estimated at 5000 dogged the heels of favorites Sam Snead and Cary Middlecoff and the defending champion Jim Turnesa.

Snead, a three-time winner, missed an easy two and a half foot putt on the final green to wind up with 69, tied with a pair of veteran campaigners, Pete Cooper and E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, and little Felice Torza of Lake Charles, Ill., playing in his first PGA.

The phlegmatic Turnesa of Briarcliff, N. Y., although exempt from qualifying, took his swings like the rest and came in with a smart 70, which bracketed him with nearly a dozen others. Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, had an even par of 71.

The final 18 holes of qualifying is scheduled tomorrow when the field will be cut from 136 to 63 and the defending champion for match play, beginning Friday.

The 41-year-old Gezzi, son of immigrant Italians, didn't once go over par and putted for birdies on most of the holes.

Three of his birdies were the result of long putts—an 18 footer on the second hole, a 25 footer on the 13th and an 18-footer on the 14th. He got his other birdies on the par four sixth where he laid a wedge two-feet from the cup, almost holing out, and on the 11th, where a seven-iron blow came to rest three feet from home.

GHEZZI'S CARD:

Par out . . . 543 444 354—36
Ghezzi out . . . 533 443 354—34
Par in . . . 454 443 345—35-71
Ghezzi in . . . 424 333 445—32-66

Not a tremendously long driver despite his powerful build, Gezzi pumped his shots down the course's gun-barrel fairways like a machine. He didn't miss one of the skinny targets until the 18th when he faded his second shot into the edge of the rough.

But he recovered nicely, pitching to within 12 feet of the pin and then falling two inches short on a dead-center putt which would have given him a record-breaking 65.

Vic, a favorite golfing partner of the Duke of Windsor on Long Island, tied for the U.S. Open championship in 1945 at Cleveland and lost, along with Byron Nelson, in a playoff won by Lloyd Mangrum. He has been a quarter-finalist three times and a semi-finalist once in this event.

GOOD CATCH IN WRONG SPOT—While vacationing in Panama City, Panama, Sgt. Noel Hughes caught this 134-pound tarpon on the Pacific side of the isthmus. The tarpon is an Atlantic fish and seldom seen as big as this on the Pacific side.

2 Triples for Minnie Chisox Gain Ground, Beat Browns, 13-4

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Minnie Minoso's two triples drove across five of 10 runs scored by the Chicago White Sox in two innings for a 13-4 crushing of the St. Louis Browns today.

A heavy shower delayed the game 35 minutes after the seventh. Minoso's bases-loaded triple spaced a seven-run sixth which sewed up the third-place Chi-Sox in the 15th decision in 18 games and moved them to within five and one-half games of the collapsing New York Yankees.

Minnie also poked a two-run triple in a three-run third inning as the Sox cut loose with extra-base power that included five doubles, three of them by Nellie Fox, and three-baggers by Jim Rivera and Sam Mele.

The winner was Saul Rogovin, who left in the sixth with his fifth victory against nine defeats Harry Dorish finished up.

The loser was Dick Littlefield, first of six Brownie hurlers, who was chased in Chicago's three-run third which gave the Sox a 4-2 lead.

Mike Blyzka, third Brownie pitcher, was rocked for all the runs in the big sixth inning. Six markers were earned.

Gray Hurls 4-2 Win

Tigers Halt Tribes' Streak

DETROIT, July 1 (AP)—Little Ted Gray, posting his third straight victory, snapped the Cleveland Indians' six game winning streak today by holding the runner-up American League club to six hits and fanning nine as the last-place Detroit Tigers won, 4-2.

But the Indians stayed five games from first place. The league leading New York Yankees, still in a slump, were shut out in Boston.

Al Rosen's 18th home run of the season in the first inning with Dale Mitchell on base accounted for all the Cleveland scoring.

Bob Lemon, who started for the Indians, was charged with his seventh defeat. The veteran right-hander was largely a victim of his own mechanical mistakes.

In the second inning Lemon made a wild pitch that enabled Walt Dropo to score and Jim Delsing to reach third. Delsing posted the tying run on Don Lund's single.

Lemon walked Delsing, leading off in the fourth. After Steve Souchock singled, the Cleveland pitcher made a wild throw of Lund's infield hit and Delsing scored.

The Tigers added their last run in the seventh on a pass to John Pesky, an infield out and Dropo's single.

Staley Halts Cards' Losing Streak With 10-5 Win Over Cubs

ST. LOUIS, July 1 (AP)—Gerry Staley proved to be the stopper tonight for the St. Louis Cardinals, breaking a three-game losing streak for the Redbirds as he scored his fifth consecutive victory and 12th of the season by turning back the Chicago Cubs, 10-5.

The Cardinals, marking time in third place two games out, supported Staley with an 11-hit attack that included two triples and a single by Stan Musial, a double and two singles by Red Schoendienst and homers by Steve Bilko and Del Rice.

Staley, tying Philadelphia's Bob Roberts for the most victories among major league pitchers, gave up 10 hits, but four of the Cubs' runs were unearned as a result of two errors.

The sidearming Staley has lost only two games, Warren Hacker, Chicago's hard luck right-hander, had little stuff this time and went down to his 11th defeat after being pounded for seven hits and six runs before the game was three innings old.

Bilko hit his tenth homer and Rice his fifth in the second frame and after the Cubs scored in the third on Frank Baumholtz' first of two doubles and Dee Fondy's triple, the Redbirds hammered Hacker out with three more runs.

SATTERFIELD KO's BAKER IN 1ST ROUND

CHICAGO, July 1 (AP)—Light heavyweight Bob Satterfield unleashed a brutal right to the chin which blasted out fourth-ranking heavyweight Bob Baker in 2:32 of the first round of their scheduled 10-round at the Chicago stadium tonight.

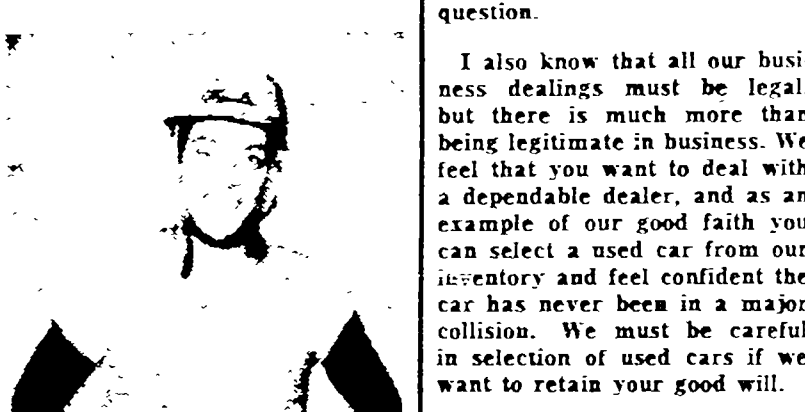

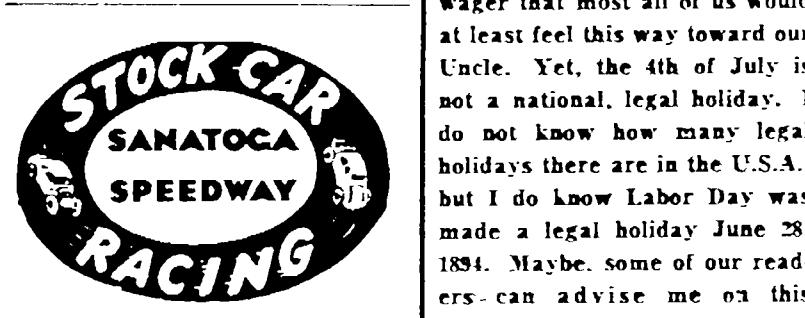

Outweighed by 33½ pounds, the 180½ pound Satterfield dealt a crushing blow to Baker's bright hopes for a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title in a surprising upset of the ponderous Pittsburgh scrapper.

Satterfield, Chicago in-and-outer, won by out-gaming the 214 pound Baker, who carried a blistering attack from the opening bell but made the fatal mistake of exposing his chin in a wild flurry.

BAKER, who had lost only two bouts in 35 previous starts, thought he had Satterfield's groin in the waning minutes of the torrid opening round.

But, with his back against the ropes, Satterfield suddenly tore back at the overpowering Baker, knocking his mouth piece out with a two-fisted attack.

Several left-right combinations slowed Baker and then suddenly Satterfield found the big

Here's a bit of good news

for the man who runs his car on Esso Extra!

When a man buys "premium" grade gasoline, it's a safe bet he does so from a desire to realize the most he can from his investment in his car. But it isn't easy for the ordinary person to make a really expert selection of his brand of gasoline!

Your engine can tell one from another in several important ways. But for you it's a little harder! You can tell which knocks and which doesn't. You can tell which seems to give a good feeling of power. But you never actually see your gasoline at work, and many of the differences only show in your engine over a period of time.

So we're happy to tell those loyal friends who make it a regular habit to drop in on our Esso Dealers, and to pin their faith to the Esso Extra pump, that they couldn't be more right if they had all the petroleum knowledge in the world!

Regardless of hopeful opinions you may hear to the contrary...we've got brass-tacks proof that today's Esso Extra meets the highest standard of all-round, year-round performance quality.

And here's just how we know this...

First, we take eight performance qualities which automotive engineers agree are important and capable of measurement in a gasoline:

- 1. Sheer Power; 2. High Anti-Knock; 3. Long Mileage; 4. Clean Engine Operation; 5. Quick Starting; 6. Fast Warm-Up; 7. Hot Weather Anti-Vapor-Lock; 8. Cool Weather Anti-Stalling.

Then, we carefully test Esso Extra for these qualities against all gasolines that compete with it. And the pay-off is that, time and again in these tests, Esso Extra meets the highest standard of overall, year-round performance quality to be found!

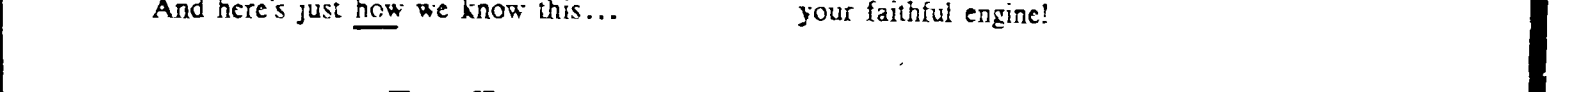

Add to this the fact that Esso Extra is the largest-selling premium gasoline in the area served by Esso Dealers...and this should be cheering news to Esso Extra fans...and cause for sober thought to others!

So...thanks for your business, and thanks for your attention, and have a "Happy Motoring" summer, with the knowledge that you just can not find a better grade of gasoline year-round than Esso Extra for the modern horsepower in your faithful engine!

Esso Extra meets today's highest standard of year-round gasoline performance!

Braves Pound Redlegs for 10-2 Win

ED MATHEWS
... Homers again

CINCINNATI, July 1 (AP)—Eddie Mathews took over the National League home run leadership today as the slugging Milwaukee Braves pounded out a 10-2 victory over the Cincinnati Redlegs.

The young third baseman hit his 23rd home run in the third inning to break a tie with Ted Kluszewski of the local club.

He also had a double and a single to drive in three runs. Mathews has hit three homers in the last two games.

Mathews' double and home run came on his first two times at bat to give him seven hits in seven times at bat, counting five for five in last night's second game. The string was broken, however, before he got his single.

Sid Gordon and Joe Adcock also homered for the Braves to make it easy for southpaw Warren Spahn to win his ninth game against three defeats this season.

Young Joe Nuxhall didn't last three innings against the suddenly awakened Milwaukee bats.

With two down in the first, Mathews doubled and Gordon homered. It was Gordon's 14th.

In the third Billy Bruton tripled and scored on Johnny Logan's single. Mathews then drove the ball out of the park to send Logan across the plate ahead of him.

Dodgers Beat Phils in 10th, 5-4

BROOKLYN, July 1 (AP)—Pinch hitter Roy Campanella and George Shuba slammed run-scoring doubles in the 10th inning to give the Brooklyn Dodgers a 5-4 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies tonight and pin the season's sixth defeat upon the redoubtable Robin Roberts. The triumph enabled the first place Dodgers to retain their half-game lead over the Milwaukee Braves.

The Phillies forged ahead, 4-3 in the top of the tenth, scoring after two were out on a single by Richie Ashburn and a double by Grady Hamner. The Phils loaded the bases before young Johnny Podres retired Eddie Waitkus for the third out.

Roberts, seeking his 13th victory, retired Gil Hodges, the first batter he faced in the 10th but never got another man out. Carl Furillo doubled for his third hit and crossed the plate with the tying run on Campanella's double. Al Walker was purposely passed before Shuba, batting for Podres, smashed his game-winning hit.

Rice's Homer Wins for Pirates As Giants Commit Four Errors

NEW YORK, July 1 (AP)—Hal Rice's first home run of the year, a walk-in score, was thrown out and a collapse of the New York Monte Irvin.

Rice's blast into the lower right field stands off reliever Hoyt Wilhelm, making his 37th appearance in 69 games, came with the score tied. Two errors, an intentional walk and pitcher Johnny Heik's single added the extra run.

Frank Thomas' two-run homer off Sal Maglie in the sixth overcame an early Giant lead. New York knocked out Johnny Lindell on two walks and three singles to score twice in the first inning. Daryl Spencer's 13th homer gave the Giants their final run off Paul LaPalme in the fourth.

Pittsburgh got to Maglie for a run in the first on a walk, sacrifice and Rice's scoring single.

After Rice's homer in the 11th, Al Dark bobbled Thomas' ground-out. Preston Ward sacrificed and Mike Sandick was intentionally walked. Eddie O'Brien was safe on Spencer's fumble, filling the bases. Then came Heik's single
